The regent, Mrs. Oberholser, presided and an unusually large number of members and guests were present. After a brief business meeting Miss Eva Luke in a few remarks introduced the speaker of the evening, Representative Merrill Moore, of Indiana. His ably discussed subject, "The Bill of Rights," was of special interest to the chapter as their subject of study this winter is the Constitution. Visiting regents brought greetings from their chapters. Edward L. Hodgkins, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, emphasized particularly the interest women's organizations should manifest in the Shepard-Towner Bill.

SPLENDID MUSICAL PROGRAM IS FEATURE.
A splendid musical program was given by Mrs. Wilde and Mrs. Trotter and Miss Olinger and Miss Walker. A pleasant social hour including refreshments, followed.

The meeting on January 4 will be held at the Blue Triangle, North Capitol and E streets, with Miss Bottorff as hostess.

The house committee of the Women's Club announces that a formal tea on Tuesday afternoon, 4 to 6 o'clock, will inaugurate the opening of the tea room under the new management with the following committee in charge: Mrs. A. G. Elphalest F. Andrews, Mrs. H. Bradley Davidson, Mrs. Frederick H. Brooke, Mrs. Theodore Noyes and Mrs. Frank S. Hight. Refreshments will be served.

On Tuesday evening Miss Carolyn T. Sewall, A. B., who has spent seven years in China on educational work, will give the club "A Message from the Orient." Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey, chairman.

The club dance on Friday evening, 9 to 12 o'clock, will be in charge of the following committee: Mrs. Elphalest F. Andrews, Mrs. H. Bradley Davidson, Mrs. Frederick H. Brooke, Mrs. Theodore Noyes and Mrs. Frank S. Hight. Refreshments will be served.

On Saturday afternoon, 4:45, Mrs. Glenna Smith Tinnin will speak on "The Theater Movement in America." Miss Karloline Klager, of the library committee, will be chairman.

One of the interesting things told by Mrs. Philip N. Moore, vice president of the International Council of Women, in her talk on the convention at Christiania on Wednesday evening, was that of the fund raised by the women of Norway to defray the expenses of delegates from Austria, Serbia and other countries which otherwise would not have been represented.

VIOLIN RECITAL BRINGS OUT MUSIC-LOVERS.
The violin recital given by the League of American Pen Women on Wednesday afternoon at the clubhouse, 1732 H street, brought forth the music-lovers of the city in such numbers as to make them conspicuous at a function usually dominated by the club members. Mrs. William H. Noble, noted American violinist, was the guest of honor and gave a beautifully rendered recital. Mrs. George Watson, who accompanied Mrs. Noble, played several selections on the piano. Members and friends filled the club-rooms, the hall, and even the stairs, in tribute to the artist.

Mrs. George Barnett served at the table, assisted by Mrs. Daniel C. Chase, Mrs. Phillander P. Clanton, Miss Virginia Carter Castelman and Mrs. Hamilton E. Cogswell. Mrs. Theodore Tiller and Mrs. C. Austin Thomas, chairman and vice chairman of the social committee, received. Mrs. William A. Thayer, League, national president of the League, introduced the honor guests. Among those present was Miss Shackelford, playing in "The Lady of the Lamp," at the Shubert-Belasco this week.

NOVEL TABLEAU PLANNED TO BENEFIT NOEL HOUSE.

There was a meeting at 5:30 Thursday of about forty of the young ladies, consisting of debutantes of this season and some of the older girls, at the home of Mrs. C. C. Calhoun, when the plans of the Christmas Advertisement Ball, to be given on December 22 at the New Willard Hotel for the benefit of the Noel House, were enthusiastically discussed.

It is going to be a very unique affair. Washington firms of prominence will not only be advertised in tableaux, but everybody who possibly can is asked to come, advertising some American product or business, and to obtain a check from the Noel House advertisement for the Noel House charity.

Several ladies are to wear gowns from Gliddens, Campbell, etc., with a ribbon from the left shoulder to the right hip, with the name of the makers in gilt letters. For this charming and original form of advertisement, a handsome check will be received for the charity.

The florists' tableau has already been spoken of, but others will be arranged all through the coming week. It is desired that anyone who wishes to attend the ball in any form of costume advertising a specialty, will let the committee know, either addressing Mrs. Perkins or Mrs. Calhoun.

A number of the young gentlemen of Washington are entering into the spirit of the affair, and some of the advertising costumes will be both picturesque and amusing.

It is explained that the object of selecting Gen. Crowder for this mission would be that he may ultimately be designated as Minister to Cuba. He has applied for retirement, and if this is granted he would be in a position to accept a civilian office. Gen. Crowder is highly regarded in Cuba, both in official and social circles. He went to Cuba in 1919 for the purpose of codifying the laws of that country following a request made by the Cuban government to the War Department asking that the general be permitted to undertake that work. He completed the task with much satisfaction to the island.

NAVY NOTES.

Rear Admiral Albert F. Niblack, U. S. N., naval attaché at the American Embassy, London, was one of the principal speakers at a dinner given by the English-Speaking Union on Armistice day in that city. Admiral Niblack spoke on the battle of Jutland, saying that whatever else the loudly called for post-mortem of the battle might reveal, the fact remained that the German High Sea Fleet stayed in its hole, with its morale and material smashed and the Grand Fleet did it, remaining stronger and even better prepared to administer the final coup de grace if the German fleet emerged again. He spoke of this matter before they had in America recently gone through a long, voluminous and costly investigation of their own Navy, only to demonstrate that the British fleet "at the rat hole" was what enabled their Navy to turn its whole energy into organizing all its forces to meet the under-sea issue which had been precipitated by unrestricted sinkings.

Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, U. S. A., retired, and his daughter, Miss Fiske, have returned to Washington for the winter and reopened their apartment at Stoneleigh court.

Comdr. Bruce L. Canaga has been detached from duty in the office of naval intelligence, Navy Department, and assigned to duty as a member of the United States Naval Commission to Brazil.

Lieut. Frederick W. Neilson, U. S. N., and Miss Eulalia Seelye Garrison, daughter of Mrs. Cornelius M. Garrison, were married at New York City November 27, 1919, in the chantry of St. Thomas' Church. Col. Robert M. Thompson, uncle of the bride, gave her away. The best man was R. P. E. Neilson, the bridegroom's brother. There was a breakfast at the Colony Club. Lieut. Neilson, Annapolis, '17, is a nephew of Mrs. Frederic Neilson and a cousin of Mrs. Neilson Vanderbilt. He has been ordered to Pensacola, Fla., for aviation duty.

Mrs. Charles A. Doyen, widow of Brig. Gen. Doyen, U. S. M. C., announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Fay Doyen, to Ensign Felix Leslie Johnson, U. S. N.
